

Friday Night Fever is a Sydenham Shul Spectacular.
Picture this: Main Street is closed of to traffic. The glorious harmonies of the Sydenham Shul choir escape through the windows of the gorgeous Shul. Minutes later, hundreds of people emerge from the Shul to shmooze in the street, nursing alcoholic and non-alcoholic beverages, enjoying soup and perogen or biltong and Black Label.
It's an overwhelming sight to see some 1500 people celebrating Shabbos in the streets of South Africa.
